

I Mean to Shine

Barbra Streisand

Here comes another dawn for every child to see
This time the morning sun is burning just for me
I've got the skyward eyes like I never had before
Just smile and say goodbye, show me to the door For every one there comes a precious time
To break away I mean to shine, oh, I mean to shine
As I look out on the morning sun
I know I mean to shine This day I realized, the world I knew is gone
New seasons come and change
The crown that stood upon
I've been afraid to feel and scared of falling free
You said so I'm real, it seemed so clear to me For everyone who breathes
There comes a time to fly away I mean to shine, oh, I mean to shine
As I look out on the morning sun
I know I mean to shine For everyone who breathes
There comes a time to break away I mean to shine, oh, I mean to shine
As I look out on the morning sun
I know I mean to shine
