Run To The Sun

N.e.r.d.

Before you go, I wanna talk to you I just wanna talk to you Thinking about the time we shared And how I wasn't there It hurt me, these people overworked me Then I heard maybe soon you'll leave Excuse me Lord, if you have tricks up your sleeve I'm not ready to be bereaved I know I'm always asking for something or another But this time, it's just time 'Cause I love her But baby, if he don't change his mind Or fate or time Yo, I want to leave you with this line It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah Yesterday I tied two rocks together That symbolize our lives And threw them in the ocean Now they're on the ocean floor coastin' 'Til they stop rollin' so far That no sonar would list them To the point that no one would even believe that we existed I know that may sound twisted But my neglect is killin' me, I feel so guilty Please have faith if you feel me It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah

Though you're probably feelin' blue And you'll do what you must do I hope you know, I'd hand the skies to you I'm so embarrassed for mankind They have the nerve to let their weapon shine They're so stupid Do they not know you're about to fly high away With the wings that God will give you someday I'm not jealous, I just can't take it S.O.S. to your ears The only thing I ever feared was this day And having to say It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah It goes while you're here I wanna tell you something It's that I love you girl, yeah And I wish we could run to the sun And never come back, yeah
