

Wasteland

Sounds Under Radio

This painted house
There's no way out
This lonely couch
Is waiting for you There's a hole in space
But I can't wait
You're stealing the scene
It's all that you've been
Does it help you get by But this all will start
This all will start
But this all will start
This all You fade out from stereo
Headlights stream their afterglow
Your soft weight always let me know that
The highway stretches out
A wasteland ocean I can't forget
Pacific tides can't help me see you again But this all will start
This all will start
But this all will start
This all You've gotta wake up wake up
I've come to let go let go
You've got to give up give up
I've come to know You've come to give up give up
You said you never would know
You said wherever you go, wherever you go You've gotta wake up wake up
You've gotta wake up wake up
I've come to let go let go
You've got to give up give up
I've come to know
