Seeing Stars

Empathy Test

Everybody knows youâ€™re not perfect
But you still do your best to hide your flaws.

Everything you do is just surface
But we all know what goes on behind closed doors.

And youâ€™ll never know how it feels
To be out on a limb, in the wind.

And youâ€™ll never know how much it hurts
To fall so hard you see stars

To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars

Everything we do is falling snowflakes
It will all have melted by the dawn.
Give up all your fears for your own sakes
And follow me out into the storm.

Or youâ€™ll never know how it feels
To be out on a limb, in the wind.

And youâ€™ll never know how much it hurts
To fall so hard you see stars

To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars
To fall so hard you see stars
