Hour Glass

A Telemetry

see a blatant sign
a blood red moon
this spells disaster

feel the psychic vibes
ahead it looms
time seems like it's moving fastr

she can't take much more of this before she decides to quit she's had enough with us and our sarcastic wit

in this perfect world
the hourglass has waned
in this perfect world
the sand all has drained

just a killer virus
that spreads through your town things are so scary

through a camera's iris
that dogs you down
no rest for the wary

she can't take much more of this
before she brings her wrath
she's had enough with us
and our wicked path

hurricanes and floods
fire and disease
she pounds us into submission

no way out - no way in nowhere to go
she makes her final transition

Lyrics submitted by m.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/