

If All She Has Is You

Electric Youth

What can I say?
I'll never know what happened today
I've written a song
To string her along
I knew it was wrong She told me we would last forever
That all she ever had was me
I've just said goodbye based on a lie
That I told to my sweet love[x2]
But if all she has is you
Make sure you're one in a million She waited in vain
A figure in black, alone in the rain
She still wears her ring
A curious thing, a curious thing She told me we would last forever
That all she ever had was me
I've just said goodbye based on a lie
That I told to my sweet love[x3]
But if all she has is you
Make sure you're one in a million
