No Idea

Split Lip Rayfield

I was dreamin' we were running from a city burning down, down, down.
Made a break, a new escape, and let the world crash, down, down, down.
Now there's a piece of me,
Tells me I shouldn't leave,
Everytime I see your face.
Because every time you come around
Love, you take my breath away
Love you take my breath away.
And I just wanna breathe until I take you in.
I never want you to leave until I take you in.
But the truth is
She has no idea (no idea),
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
She has no idea (no idea),
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
Get a grip, slip and trip
over clumsy, careless words, words, words.
Paper-thin fingerprints on a softly spoken verse, verse, verse.
Now there's so much of me,
Tellin' me not to leave,
Everytime I see your face
Because every time you come around
How do you take my breath away?
And I just wanna breathe until I take you in.
I never want you to leave until I take you in.
But the truth is

She has no idea (no idea),
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
She has no idea (no idea),
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
She's so close when I'm so far away,
when I'm so far away,
Let me dream, let me stay.
She's so close when I'm so far away,
when I'm so far away,
I can sleep, I can dream, I can't change
(She has no idea)
That I'm so far away

(She has no idea)
Now I'm so far away
She has no idea (no idea)
That I'm even here (that I'm even here)
She has no idea (no idea)
That I'm even here
That I'm even here.
She has no idea (no idea)
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
She has no idea (no idea)
That I'm even here (that I'm even here).
She has no idea, idea, idea
She has no idea, idea, idea
She has no idea, idea, idea
(That I'm even here)
She has no idea.
