

Moon Dude

Jessica Pratt

Moon dude, you can try the weight of your pulley now

 In outer space and time

You can cast a gaze on our planet lines, ta-da

 You're on the outside, you're looking in

 To the escalators humming

They are pulling you from nothing but your lonelinessI know you're searching all the time

 In the corners of your mind

 But you can't turn this planets 'round

But, boy, don't you want me now?Moon dude, you can try the weight of your pulley now

 In outer space and time

 You're on the outside, you're looking in

 To the escalators humming

They are pulling you from nothing but your lonelinessI know you're searching all the time

 Through the corners of your mind

 But you can't turn this planet 'round

 Oh don't let me down

 Boy, don't you want me now
