

Pretty Grids

Jimmy Eat World

There's a sound that's true, but the voice is new
And a half-dancing attempt to learn your name
Right place and time for haze and lights
There's a chance I meet your eyes if I move in
Someday we might not bother
Line up the way we should
Why not the sun just feels too good
Sometimes the right one finds us
Who cares why they do?
Why not we jumped because could
When the fight is done and the feelings come
Is it more than what you thought or even want?
No place feels right for a busy night
However goes the night, it's what you've got
Someday we might not bother
Line up the way we should
Why not the sun just feels too good
Sometimes the right one finds us
Who cares why they do?
Why not we jumped because could
All I see is up-close magic
Only sweet because it ends
All I see is up-close magic
Only sweet because it ends
Someday we might not bother
Line up the way we should
Why not the sun just feels too good
Sometimes the right one finds us
Who cares why they do?
Why not we jumped because could
