

Songs That Said It All

The Swon Brothers

Just another typical Saturday night
Hanging out with the boys
Nothing new cutting through those neon lights
Always the same old noise
Just about the time I was looking to leave
I caught that look in your eye
You were dancing with your friends when I cut in
And the DJ got it rightAnd we sang, just skipping through the words that we didn't know
We danced, in the middle of the room like we were all alone
And I couldn't say what you were doing to me
So I left it up to the melody
We sang, sang along to the songs that said it allWell the lights came on after that last song
But we weren't ready to go
Putting off good night and hoping you might
Let me drive you home
Foot on the gas, hearts beating fast
To the sound of the radio
Well it's almost like they had us in mind
Every line, every single noteAnd we sang, just skipping through the words that we didn't know
We danced, and the way you were moving was turning me on
And I couldn't say what you were doing to me
So I left it up to the melody
We sang, sang along to the songs that said it allWe sang, just skipping through the words that we didn't know
We danced, in the middle of the night just letting go
I couldn't say what you were doing to me
So I left it up to the melody
We sang, sang along to the songs that said it allYeah the songs that said it all
The songs that said it all
