

You And I

Future of Forestry

Water for the thirsty, wholeness for the meek
Shelter and foundation for the weak
Friendship for the lonely, riches for the poor
Fulfillment for the ones that yearn for more
You are what I long for
You are what I need
When it's You and I, then my heart can sing
When it's You and I, then my soul is free
You are all my life, You are all my strength
You are all my hope, You are everything
So take me to the inside, the inside of Your heart
Take me to the depths of who You are
Shake me with Your wonder, stir me with Your grace
Lighting every dark and empty space
You are what I long for
You are what I need
When it's You and I, then my heart can sing
When it's You and I, then my soul is free
You are all my life, You are all my strength
You are all my hope, You are everything
You are here, You surround me
Glory falls from the fountain of Your beauty
You are now and You surround me
Glory falls from Your tender hand of mercy
You are God, You surround me
Glory falls from Your love
When it's You and I, then my heart can sing
When it's You and I, then my soul is free
You are all my life, You are all my strength
You are all my hope, You are everything
