Deconstruction

The Grey Wolves

I am stuck here with a torn up soul that can never
Be mended you, you destroyed my dreams i, i sat
Silently never knowing how much you stole and how
I suffered never knowing incapable of love...
Your smile, your deep brown eyes, your skin so soft
And dark as night your actions made me who i am,
Today i stand here half a man convincing brown eyes,
As dark as night why did you stray from the den and Take away all my pride deceitful brown eyes, as dark
As night i was blinded, by your beauty your smile,
Your deep brown eyes heart so cold and black as night.
I will never forget you, this pain will never leave my Memories of you.... of you as for your love, it was Never there, all of this pain... I set ablaze.
