Northern Lights (feat. David Harks)

Satin Jackets

Stay in the middle of the road at night
You're heading towards an Alaskan sky
Just hang on to me for the ride of your life
We'll connect the stars across the sky

We're going alone
You and I we'll find our way home
We're going alone
You and I we'll find our way home

Chorus (X2):

Heading to the northern lights
The night has just begun
And we only want to close our eyes
And take a trip around the sun

We head to the future and it feels so blind
Soon enough the steel path (?)
They're trying to keep us safe and sound
But we're living in a world of broken glass

Chorus (X2):

Heading to the northern lights
The night has just begun
And we only want to close our eyes
And take a trip around the sun

We're going alone
You and I we'll find our way home
We're going alone
You and I we'll find our way home

Heading to the northern lights
(We're going alone)
The night has just begun

(You and I we'll find our way home)
And we only want to close our eyes
(We're going alone)
And take a trip around the sun
(You and I we'll find our way home)
