

Suzanne

John Martyn

A long time since I saw love in my garden
A long time since I met love at my door
Sometimes I thought I knew you
Sometimes I saw straight through you
Lord I hope I never see you no more.

Where are you now, Suzanne?
Sometime I think I dreamed it from the start
Where are you now, Suzanne
Tell me how to run to your heart.

I was holding on to my imagination
Imagining youâ€™d be the only one
Seemed like every time I kissed you just another way to miss you
I should have known that love was on the run.

Where are you now, Suzanne?
Sometimes I think I dreamed you from the start
Where are you now, Suzanne
Tell me what youâ€™ve done
Tell me what you do this time,
Tell me what you do to my heart.

Well I know you could have loved the man that I could never be
You know you never loved me like I am
Well I tried so hard to hold you
And never even told you
I knew inside you loved some other man.

Where are you now, Suzanne?
Sometimes I think I dreamed you from the start
Where are you now, Suzanne?

Where are you now, Suzanne
Where are you now, tell me.

---

Lyrics submitted by ico sesssarego.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>