

Violent Kiss

Eyes Set to Kill

I can't keep pacing...
I need your blood tonight.
[You're so far from me,]
And I'm so weak inside.
Come fly to me.
I'll show you what it's like.
[When the full moon shines,]
We'll stop hearts together. When we're conjoined at the lips,
I feel alive;
I feel undead.
Pumping new life through these veins,
Holding onto the finest thread. Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
[Don't let go.]
I promise pain will pass you silently.
Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
[Don't let go.]
With your neck,
I'll kiss you violently. To kiss my lips will leave you cold tonight.
[You'll need my blood,]
And I'll devote my life.
Come fly to me.
I'll show you what it's like.
[When the full moon shines,]
We'll stop hearts together. It's just like me to attach affection to a second chance.
So pull me any closer,
And I can tell you how it ends. Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
[Don't let go.]
I promise pain will pass you silently.
Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
[Don't let go.]
With your neck,
I'll kiss you violently. Pull away from this embrace before it's too late. Pull away from this embrace before... Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
I promise pain will pass you silently.

Take my hand,
Grip it tightly.
With your neck,
I'll kiss you violently. Pull away from this embrace before it's too late
