

Help My Unbelief

Jenny Phillips

I feel I'm walking in the rain
Dripping with the weight of heavy days
And empty spaces fill the places
You once used to be
It feels dead inside where heaven used to breathe

There are times I feel You in the mountains
There are times I see You in the fiery sky
But tonight, I just need to know You're by my side
Not somewhere out there in the starry sky
I need to know that I'm within Your reach
Help thou my unbelief

Breath of mercy will You blow
On these embers grown so cold
I need something still and small
To fill me once again
Can You make these shadows flee
So You can enter in?

There are times I feel You in the mountains
There are times I see You in the fiery sky
But tonight, I just need to know You're by my side
Not somewhere out there in the starry sky
I need to know that I'm within Your reach
Help thou my unbelief
