

Long Train of Fools

Lynn Morris

My lonely heart was waitin'
You came right on time
You soon had me believin'
True love was on your mind
You took me straight to heaven
I thought we had it made
But, baby, heaven was just a stop along the way[Chorus]
There's a long train rollin'
And a blue moon above
You switched me back, I jumped the track
On that railroad of love
You engineered my sadness
You treated me so cruel
Now I'm just another rider
On your long train of fools Things kept movin' faster
We had love to burn
Thought we were on the same track
But you took a different turn
And now that it's all over
I ask myself sometimes
How many others have you taken down that line?
