Nothing But You

GENTRI

If I were to give you a glimpse inside something I don't tell you all the time, you think you'd be surprised, there's nothing but you I wish that I could show you what you can't see a little piece that makes you so complete there's no wonder why there's nothing but you, take away the spotlight take away the guarantees take all the distractions there'd be nothing but you put them on a wave list I'd gladly give up everything cause you see the truth is there'd be nothing but you. And all the daily tension that comes with life that takes my attention and leaves you behind I'll drop it all till there's nothing but you and if I ever fall back if you let me try nothing else will matter till I make it right, I won't stop till there's nothing but you, take away the spotlight take away the guarantees take all the distractions there'd be nothing but you put them on a wave list I'll gladly give up everything cause you see the truth is there'd be nothing but you there'd be nothing but you take away the spotlight take away the guarantees take all the distractions there'd be nothing but you put them on a wave list I'll gladly give up everything cause you see the truth is....there'd be nothing but you.
