Stray

Jason Michael Carroll

Last night I saw you standing by the window in our room
You had your hair down on your shoulders
And the moonlight kissing you
I could hold your perfect body, I just couldn't reach your heart
And that fire that burns between us
Slowly faded in the dark

[Chorus]
You're gonna stray and leave me standin' alone
You're gonna stray, baby your loves already gone
You don't wanna be here its perfectly clear
And you think you got it hidden away
I know you're gonna stray
You're gonna stray

I don't know when it started happenin'
But I can tell its closing in
There's a change on your horizon
And that hour glass is running outta sand
And I'm no longer in your plans

[Chorus]

Away from me and take'th you everything
I thought was true and every ounce of love ive held on to.
You're gonna stray
You're gonna stray
You're gonna stray
You don't wanna be here its perfectly clear
And you think you've got it hidden away.
I know you're gonna stray
