Melt The Snow

Shayne Ward

Sometimes out my window
I notice that you've been cryin' over him
And I wonder why you just don't
Kick him to the curb instead of bein' with him
You see love at first is summer time
That's when you think that everything's fine
No one ever thinks it's gonna end
But when things go wrong and winter comes
You're gonna need to run to someone
Left alone you'll just freeze up again
But you should know
When it gets too cold
You're not alone
I'll melt the snow
Some nights I can hear you
Screamin' on the phone over somethin' that he did
And I wonder what can I do
To make you throw him out so you can let me in
You see love at first is summer time
That's when you think that everything's fine
No one ever thinks it's gonna end
But when things go wrong and winter comes
You're gonna need to run to someone
Left alone you'll just freeze up again
But you should know
When it gets too cold
You're not alone

I'll melt the snow, I'll melt the snow
I'll, I'll melt the snow, I'll, I'll melt the snow
I'll, I'll melt the snow, I'll, I'll melt the snow
I'll, I'll melt the snow, I'll, I'll melt the snow
You see love at first is summer time
That's when you think that everything's fine
No one ever thinks it's gonna end
But when things go wrong and winter comes
You're gonna need to run to someone
Left alone you'll just freeze up again
You see love at first is summer time

That's when you think that everything's fine
No one ever thinks it's gonna end
But when things go wrong and winter comes
You're gonna need to run to someone
Left alone you'll just freeze up again
But you should know
When it gets too cold
You're not alone
I'll melt the snow
But you should know
When it gets too cold
You're not alone
I'll melt the snow
I'll melt the snow
