

Bastard Son

Left Alone

Well I know it's no secret
I'm a drunk just like you
As I sit here counting the change in my pocket
To get a drunk and try to forget you
So many days I questioned and I wondered Wondering what did I do wrong
Cause mama said it was all cause of me
You left that Friday night and never returned
And every day
I prayed and I wished and I wondered
When you would come back
When you would return
But I found comfort and courage
Inside of a bottle
Now I don't care if you return
I grew up alone with no direction
I learned about life the hard way
Made mistakes and learned about rejection
I was a kid out on the streets running astray
I began to look for my place in life
Cause I knew I didn't fit with every one
I was the kid with no father and no Monday
But I found a home in my guitar and my songs
Now I don't care if you return

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>