Lightshow

1208

I was cut
Open on the way down
Reeling
from the blowAnd you were there
On the other line
In between the tears and the light showWhat a disappointment
I thought there'd be so much more
But all this talking
Is driving me insaneAnd I was told
If I was to sing along
Forget about myself
We're all the sameWell maybe I should change my point of viewDizzy in the morning
And I'm shaking in the afternoon
There's never no warning
When it's gonna hitAnd I'm like an earthquake
When I get thinking too much
Everything's falling and shaking and falling
Through my handsWell maybe I should change my point of viewAll this time we have together...yeah
It's desperation
For everybody
It's wish-ful thinking
For the whole human race (or whoever)
