

How Many People Can Say That

Javier Colon

We had a couple hard nights
We had a couple long fights
We had a couple bumps but we're still alright

We made a couple wrong turns
We lived as much as we learned
We made through the fire and we didn't get burned

Oh oh oh
That feeling deep inside
It only multiplies
When I'm thinking about you

Oh oh oh
Baby after all these years
The heartache and the tears
We made it through

Tell me something

How many people can say that
How many people can say that
How many people can say that
Tell me something

How many people can say that
How many people can say that
How many people can say that

I drove a couple beat-up cars
You made a dollar go so far
Shadows all around
But the sun still shines

I sung a couple bad notes
You made a couple bad jokes
We tell it like it is
So we gon' be fine

Oh oh oh

That feeling deep inside
It only multiplies
When I'm thinking about you

Oh oh oh
Baby after all these years
The heartache and the tears
We made it through
Tell me something
I cannot live without you
Even if I try
You are the only reason I am still inspired
And nothing can change that
