

Tell Me

The Lost Trailers

I wake up and find you next to me
Where I always hoped you'd be
And I recall, when we were both alone
Far from what we needed and where we needed to be

So tell me, tell me you love me tonight
Convince me it's worth all the fighting and pain, nights full of rain
Times we come home and we don't feel the same and you tell me
Tell me you love me

I forget who I am without you to hold
Your memory burns but I can't let go
Of all those times when your love was all I knew
You were all I wanted, so what I need you to do

Is tell me, tell me you love me tonight
Convince me it's worth all the fighting and pain, nights full of rain
Times we come home and we don't feel the same and you tell me
Tell me you love me tonight

Oh take me way back when, when true love first begins
When we were just two kids who thought our love would never end
It was like that for a while, we were walking down the aisle
But we're not done 'cause you're the only one I've ever loved
The only one I've loved

So tell me, when the nights are cold and we're all alone
And you tell me, when the days get long and the road goes on
And you tell me, when we're on the phone and I'm coming home
And you tell me tell me you love me

I wake up and find you next to me
Where I always hoped you'd be
