

Half of You

Cat Power

When you give half of you
I want all of you
When you give half of you
I want all of you When you go back window
You see shadows
When you're shopping for me
'Cause when you give half of you
I want all of you Sadness is a gentle mind
But a good women
Has her hands to use Empty package of chips will tell you
What can be sold market
And what can belong to you when you give
