Drowsy

Banes World

when you call about it, now that you know about it, well it showed i don't doubt it, antidote i found it, feeling low about it, on the go without it, want to go home, should've shouted, i miss my home, "now you know that i'm not all that you thought i would be, grateful to have shouldering me, but it chose, when you look in my eyes, breaks all my bones," - bane's world drowsy
