Same Sick Feeling

Pulley

Wake up in the morning with that same sick feeling
Another day alone is another day with you
Don't know why I hand on don't know how to let go
Just feels like there's nowhere else to go
Why can't you take the pain away from me
Give me all the answers show me how to breathe
Wake up in the morning with a needle in my head
You walk alone
I'll set you free
You won't ever have
No one to call like me
Wasting all this time with my soul on the line
Letting go the freedom that's been held inside
The more you get to know me the less that you know
Take a look around you see it's all a show
Wake up in the morning with a needle in my head
