

For the Kill

Biting Elbows

[Verse 1]

My friends, my lovers, and everyone I care for are dead.

They said you'll die soon enough anyway.

Shut up, I can't. Mainly because I never could,

And how could I start now?

I drink water perhaps contaminated by the split of the Atom

Less than a war a good thousand feet away from me

And others of my kind

My mind is on its own tonight.[Hook]

My blood, it shakes, and through my veins, it travels to my head

They said you'll die soon enough anyway

Shut up, I can't. Mainly because I never could,

And how could I start now?[Chorus]

Honey, I'm down. Not that I need you. Look at me now.

You've made a believer!

Turn it Up

Turn it Up

Turn it Up some more

Why would I be, standing still

When you got blood that I need to spill?

Oh yeah!

I'm looking for a thrill

I'm in for the kill[Verse 2]

I ain't a killer, not by my own design

Vengeance is my business,

And business is doin' fine.

One n' a half drinks, making my mind think

There's a return

But I'm loving it out here

Overseeing the dreams burn.[Hook]

My blood, it shakes, and through my veins, it travels to my head

They said you'll die soon enough anyway

Shut up, I can't. Mainly because I never could,

And how could I start now?[Chorus]

Honey, I'm down. Not that I need you. Look at me now.

You've made a believer!

Turn it Up

Turn it Up

Turn it Up some more
Why would I be, standing still
When you got blood that I need to spill?
Oh yeah!
I'm looking for a thrill
I'm in for the kill
