Starting to Show

Jill Barber

From the top of my head
To my tippy toes
I am in love
And it's starting to showI want you to know
But don't know where to begin
I can outline my feelings
But I can't fill them inOh I am in love
And it's starting to grow
With its roots firmly planted
In the earth belowIt's true what they say
You will reap what you sew
You grow stronger and stronger
In timeIt's so easy to tell
There's an apple in my eye
I can't hide it so well
So I don't even tryYou are an arrow
And my heart the bullseye
You're a sure shot baby
Every timeI was walking in a circle
Staring down at my feet
When I met you half way
It felt strangely completeHad a melody to play
But it kept missing the beat
Now I could carry that tune all the way
To the moon, to the moonOh my tongue hits the floor
At the thought of your touch
My heart next to yours
Skips double dutchThere isn't much more
That a girl could ask for
Please and thank you
Very muchOh I am in love
And it's starting to show
From the tip of my cap
To the bottom of my soleSo tuck me sweet
And dance me slow
Get me high
And dip me lowI am in love
And I want you to know
It grows wiser and stronger

In time
