

December.

kani beats

December falls, I don't think I'm okay

Not today, when dad came home

He told me go upstairs, I close my eyes

A tear falls down as I drop onto my bed

Not again, my anger hits as I hear mom cry again

Things are confusing I don't know what I should turn to

Should I run away? Dad has gone crazy

The last time I think I might, put him in his place

I think I just might run away

December falls and I forgot its meaning

To look to Christ I'll help you dad

I'll show you there's a meaning

I think I should look to my heart
