Greasy Heart

Jefferson Airplane

Lady, you keep asking why he likes you how come Wonder why he wants more if he just had some Boys, she's got more to play with in the way of toys
Ladies eyes go off and on with a finger full of glue
Paper dresses catch on fire & you lose her in the haze
Lips are drawn upon her face in come-to-me tattoo
Creamy suntan color that fades when she bathes
He's going off the drug thing cause his veins are getting big Don't ever change lady, he likes you that way because He just had his hair done and he wants to use your wig

He wants to sell his paintings but the market is slow
Don't ever change people even if you can
They're only paying him two grams now for a one-man abstract show
Made for each other made in Japan
You are your own best toy to play with remote control hands
Woman with a greasy heart automatic man
Don't ever change people even if you can
Don't change before the empire falls
You'll laugh so hard you'll crack the wallsDon't ever change people your face will hit the fan

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/