Gravity

Jimmy Gnecco

Flying to the grave, crying to be saved, I somehow lost the day then I stopped
I felt out of place, my mind's in outer space, love was just a phase, then it died
Gravity, I want you to be here
Gravity, I want you to be here
I lost all my hair, from worry and from care, thought everyone would stare then I stopped
Love is everywhere, no one seems aware, no one seems to care, until they starve
Gravity, I want you to be here
Gravity, I want you to be here
If i can cry I can crawl, and start all over againDid you wake up when you landed? Did you wake up when you fell? Either way it's what you plamted
Gravity, I want you to be here
Gravity, I want you to be here
If I can cry I can crawl, then start all over
The joy, all the pain, all of the things that we can't explain
The world's gone insane, starting at them through my window pane
And all that remains, everytihng will come back again
The joy, all the pain, staring at them, starting at them
Gravity, I want you to be here
Gravity, I want you to be here
If I can cry I can crawl, and start all over again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/