LEFT SIDE DRIVE

solange-knowles

Verse1:
You. You got one hand in your pocket, the other holds my heart.
We. We got a plan of a lifetime, but don't know where to start.
And all I think is staying happy. If I can just talk at all.
Polaroid. Before it comes to light.
You're never blowing out the candles, and I can't learn to say goodbye.
Chorus:
You never get too far. And I'll always being here waiting. You never come.
You drive around in circles, so you never get to far. You never do.
Slow down (you're moving to fast) You always do.
You never get too far. And I'll always be here waiting, on the left side drive.
Verse2:
I become a serial lover and don't know where to end.
You. You're in a state of confusion, and don't know where to begin.
And all I see is rainbows running. If I can just talk at all. Polaroid.

Before it comes to light. You seem like heaven from a distance, and I can't learn to say goodbye.
Chorus:
You never get too far. And I'll always being here waiting. You never come.
You drive around in circles, so you never get to far. You never do.
Slow down (you're moving to fast) You always do.
You never get too far. And I'll always be here waiting, on the left side drive.
Repeat Chorus
Bridge
You never get to far. And I'll always be here waiting. You never come.
You drive around circles. So you never get to far. You never do.
Slow down. You're movin. You're movin.
And I can't be here waiting. I won't be waiting. I won't be waiting. I won't be waiting.
Outro:
And the lost isle of Bangladesh. Barbados, Berbuda, Bermuda. This is the pure road. We don?t drive on the left side, But I?ve been waiting on the right side. For you. You. Haaa.
