The Classic Crime

Warm skin, smooth lips
Our hearts are strong and toned
Our tongues speak of the unknownI know that were not here on our own
You ear's pressed to your phone as you wait for me
You're waiting there so patiently untilI throw caution to the wind
And suck your sweet poison
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingAs I trip on my desire
I dive into your fire
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingFast asleep, my chest your cheek
You softly hum a tune to me
From deep within your dreamsAnd your eyes tell the story of my life
And your smile
The reason I am still aliveThrow caution to the wind
And suck your sweet poison
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingAs I trip on my desire
I dive into your fire
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everything to meYou never let me down
No, no, no, no, no
You never let me down
Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh-hoI throw caution to the wind
(Caution to the wind)
Caution to the wind
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingAs I trip on my desire
(Trip on my desire)
I dive into your fire
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingI throw caution to the wind
And suck your sweet poison
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everythingAs I trip on my desire
I dive into your fire
Your bodys everything
Your bodys everything
