Everyday

Jill Phillips

A night full of stars and the moon on water
Reflects perfectly clear
We walk to the car, turn on secret garden
And roll down the windows to hearDown to the shore where the tide is rising
Feel it run over our feet
We start to move and Im realizing
Now I am living a dreamI can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every dayI open my eyes as the song is fading
I wish that it had no end
But the pulse of the tide keeps our bodies swaying
Dancing to music withinI can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every dayI can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day
