Lullaby

A.Tone Da Priest

(Verse 1)
Dreams are made for comfort, your shield
Time to let your mind do wonders, heal
What is real, who is fiction, characters replaceable
This world is all yours, anything shapeable
Escape a whole ocean of droning and misery
With life out of focus your hope will forever be
A recipe for that satisfaction
So absent, no fear, no bad men so you can just
(Bridge)
Close your eyes, sleepless lullabys
Its in your mind, all that you despise
And thats all right, youre in paradise
Just no more cries, now that its up to you
(Hook)
If Im falling understand me calling
Out for help, my words could never tell
Dry your tears no balling, hear the angels calling out
Believe our love will never fail
(Verse 2)
Are you certain, you want to be like them?
Is it hurting, the message we never send
Could spend a whole fortune, to hide the pain
When before then, all you feel is the same?
No blame to place, or man to hate
Just innovate, recreate
Situations are your creation
Its your mind; you wanna save it you can just
(Bridge 2)
Close your eyes, faceless lullabys
Its in your mind, all that you despise
And thats all right, youre in paradise
Just no more lies, now that its up to you
(Hook)
Keep focus, on what you need
Cant live, just off greed
Plant seeds, it heeds a fortune
Of course when the source is out of proportion
Retorting the arts stand the test of emission

Persistence has often a scent of definition
Or a mission, goal to get better than before
The score is risen, so much capable of more
(Bridge 1)
