Unvanquished

Earth Crisis

There's no time to waste, I won't hesitate, too heavy, a toll's been paid
Their escape attempts were just another trade, realized too late
Evaluated the cost of their lies now no more will be lost
All the strength it takes on reserve within to save more than myselfA distance waits to be crossed
It's all just begun
Alive through straight edgeTen hits rain down for every step that I advance
Smashed down again and again to rise to standI save my tears for the living
I hold my rage for the last day
I save my tears for the living
I hold my rage for the last dayA distance waits to be crossed
It's all just begun
Alive through straight edgeTen hits rain down for every step that I advance
Smashed down again and again to rise to stand unvanquished
Ten hits rain down for every step that I advance
Smashed down again and again to rise to stand unvanquished
