Friendly Fire

Tyler James

I could see it in your eyes
Someone major I adore met
Tried to prove I'm not that guy
It's a shame you never saw thatYou were fighting your own goals
You were fighting your own battles
I was not the enemy
But your fear mistook meIt's alright, even though I might be hurting
It's alright and I promise I'm not bad at all'Cause I know it was an accident
Know you really didn't mean to hurt me
And I know you've been through the worst
This the one that you got triggered happy
And if anybody asks I'll tell them it's a fact that
I, I, I got you down by friendly fireYou took a girl he hurt so bad
And you coated her with armor
Wish I could've proved to her
That I would never ever harm herThought my love would be enough
But I fought a losing battle
Such a heart would open up
But your fear confused itIt's alright, even though I might be hurting
It's alright and I promise I'm not bad at all'Cause I know it was an accident
Know you really didn't mean to hurt me
And I know you've been through the worst
This the one that you got triggered happy
And if anybody asks I'll tell them it's a fact that
I, I, I got you down by friendly fireAnd I hope your fears don't win
One day you'll let somebody in
And I hope that you don't let the past
Make you destroy the love you've always wanted so bad'Cause I know it was an accident
Know you really didn't mean to hurt me
And I know you've been through the worst
This the one that you got triggered happy'Cause I know it was an accident
Know you really didn't mean to hurt me
And I know you've been through the worst
This the one that you got triggered happyAnd if anybody asks, I'll tell them it's a fact that I, I, I got you down by friendly fire
