

I Can't Breathe

Tickle Me Pink

YouThat look in your eyes is filled with such hate
As if it's my fault for the choices you've made
I'll stand away, I'm staying awayYou tell yourself lies, they tear me apart
You hate yourself, so you break my heart
What's there to say? What's there to say?
No wayI can't breathe, your demands are crushing me
I'm trapped inside your warm sense of reality
I'd go inside but then you'd get the rest of me
That can never beI'll admit you had me believing you'd changed
But you're still a leech sucking blood from my veins
I swear I'm done, I'm sure you had your funPainful pleasures kept me believing
Tell me why can't you see that your ego is bleeding?
What's there to say? What's there to say?
No wayI can't breathe, your demands are crushing me
I'm trapped inside your warm sense of reality
I'd go inside but then you'd get the rest of me
That can never beYou won't get the best of me
You won't get the best of me
You won't get the best of me, that will never be
You won't get the best, that will never beYou won't get the best, you won't get the best of me
You won't get the best, you won't get the bestI can't breathe, your demands are crushing me
I'm trapped inside your warm sense of reality
I'd go inside but then you'd get the rest of me
That can never beYou won't get the rest of me, can't get the rest of me
You won't get the rest of me
