Blue Rain (coming Down)

Roy Orbison

Silently I hear the sound of the blue rain come downIt's late tonight and I just saw you walking by Without one word of hello or goodbye
Just one look at you with someone new and then I knew
I'll see you around in the blue, blue rainI didn't know a moment ago it could rain this way
You used to run straight to my arms, now you turn away
Oh, I never knew such a feeling of blue
Blue rain, blue rain, blue rainWhy did you make me love you then break my heart in two
Then leave me alone here in the rain to cry for you
Tomorrow will be filled with the lonely
Blue rain, blue rainI'll remember you all alone walking on
And crying, losing you in the blue, blue rain
