Hyperballad

The Twilight Singers

Hyperballad - twilight singers (cover of a bjork song)We live on a mountainRight at the topThere's a beautiful viewFrom the top of the mountain
Every morning I walk towards the edgeAnd throw little things offLike:Car parts, bottles and cutleryOr whatever I find lying around
It's become a habitA wayTo start the day
I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with youIt's early morning
No one is awake
I'm back at my cliff
Still throwing things off
I listen to the sounds they make
On their way down
I follow with my eyes 'til they crash
Imagine what my body would sound like
Slamming against those rocksWhen it lands
Will my eyes
Be closed or open?
