

Hyperballad

The Twilight Singers

Hyperballad - twilight singers (cover of a bjork song)
We live on a mountain
Right at the top
There's a beautiful
view
From the top of the mountain
Every morning I walk towards the edge
And throw little things off
Like: Car parts, bottles and cutlery
Or whatever
I find lying around
It's become a habit
A way
To start the day
I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you
It's early morning
No one is awake
I'm back at my cliff
Still throwing things off
I listen to the sounds they make
On their way down
I follow with my eyes 'til they crash
Imagine what my body would sound like
Slamming against those rocks
When it lands
Will my eyes
Be closed or open?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>