Bitter Blue

Shannon McNally

And I knew you'd come walking up the middle of the street
Like a ball of fire giving off heat
And I was standing there in my lace of flames
My fingers on fire embers all around
As the walls fell your hands found me in the fog
I heard people talking in that secret dialogue
More's going on than meets the eye
And I'm trying to decipher the liesBah bah da da da
Cause I was going under and you saved me
Now I owe it all to you
I was going under and you saved me
My bittersweet my bitter blueAnd oh they do get mad baby don't they get angry
When you tell them that you just don't agree
They tell you that you're hard to please
That your na?ve and you're gonna be very very sorry
But I feel so sure and I feel so new
And then there you are in your jeans of blue
Making it all seem so easy
You make the gale winds nothing more than breezyBah bah da da da?
Cause I was going under and you saved me
Now I owe it all to you
I was going under and you saved me
My bittersweet my bitter blue
Whoa?. My bittersweet my bitter blueColor's rising honey don't you realize don't you see
You're for me like Adam was for Eve
See me come laughing through the fields
See me come laughing through the waves
Baby I've been holding out for you ? yeahSee me come laughing through the fields
See me come through the waves
Here I come, here I comeCause I was going under and you saved me
Now I owe it all to you
I was going under and you saved me
My bittersweet my bitter blue
