Calling The Rain

Eluveitie

A nexus fruition, whirling cognition
Ulterior, the failing of wordsA pageant to leave me bewildered
Lurch at the sight of the clandestine ascendancy
Pervading anima
An awe-struck principle, an adytum to find our homeLong for the rapture again
Crave for the pristine lightVastness engulfing the soul
Unfurling this truth, an orbit in sovereignty
Sown into deep darkness
The grain has to die, perish to bestow new lifeA vis major painting a rapturous view
Heralding a vivid themaHeed, it's like calling the rain
It's like bearing in pain
Like embracing life an decaying in death
Heed, it's like calling the rainIt's like the caress of a mother
Like life to go withered, a perennial pneuma
I will not forget what I arose fromDecidual the forests proclaim
The glory primal, the rapturous supremacy
Vanquishing the vile
Burgeoning beyond, bearing the essence of lifeCrave for the rapture again
Long for the pristine light

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/