

Carry You (Acoustic)

David Cook

This lightning's gonna strike
Right through this heart of mine again, again
'Cause this rain ain't gonna stop
And we're feeling every drop
As they keep on dancing on our heads But you gotta hold on
You gotta be strong
Right here with me if it all goes wrong
To keep you from harm
Away in my arms
Steer you away from the storm When the sun won't come around
And your world keeps washing out
I won't let this love fall down
I'll carry you
I'll carry you So let's run toward waiting lights
'Cause I know there's better skies ahead, ahead
Sand through an hourglass
This flood is gonna pass
And we'll still be standing, hand in hand But you gotta hold on
You gotta be strong
Right here with me if it all goes wrong
To keep you from harm
Away in my arms
Steer you away from the storm When the sun won't come around
And your world keeps washing out
I won't let this love fall down
I'll carry you
I'll carry you When the sun won't come around
And your world keeps washing out
I won't let this love fall down
I'll carry you
I'll carry you When the sun won't come around
And your world keeps washing out
I won't let this love fall down
I'll carry you
I'll carry you
