Only You

Lasgo

I remember those times of chasing hearts in the night
So many times love was gone with the morning light
But since you came, the door has opened inside
Im not the same since the day you caught my eyeAnd everyday I've been playing a role
What came my way, I was always in control
Since you came its like Im floating on air
I dont feel the same, you've won my heart, baby this I swearHeaven knows you've changed my life, only you
Like an angel through the night, out of the blue
Heaven knows you've reached my mind, only you
Like an angel through the night, out of the blueAll my life, I've been living alone
Always got by, I could make it on my own
Then you came, emotion start running so wild
My life has changed, faster than the speed of light
