Blues for My Baby

Conny Ochs

I'm standing on the junction, I'm standing on my own. It's the same ol' story every lonely one has told.

I'll ride and I will do it. I'll write and let you know how it's cold and dark out here; it's how it feels to be alone.

Please believe me when I say, I'd rather be with my baby than sing this song anyway. It's blues for my baby. It's Blues for my baby.

Oh most beautiful death, come and get me now. If anything was worth anything it's to live and die for love.

Now you can start your yelling but you're yelling at a fool. For people that know everything, we don't play by your rules.

Please believe me when I say, I'd rather be with my baby than sing this song anyway. It's blues for my baby. It's blues for my baby. It's blues for my baby.

Now I don't need names for colours, they've all faded to grey. Since I woke up without my baby my bed's been lonely as a grave. Here's blues for my baby. Here's blues for my baby. Here's the blues for my baby.

Lyrics Submitted by Richard Westerm

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/