Love Wins

Robbie Seay Band

It's a big world we are hoping for a big change
We are broken
In the fading light of the dying sun
We cry for redemptionThere is hope, there is hope and there is hope
But everyone who's lost will be coming home
And everything that hurts will be whole again
And love will be the last thing standingCan't stop, you can't stop the seasons
Don't stop, don't stop believingKeep on dreaming of the day when it all will change
Believe in the end, love wins
If you're waiting for the time when your sun will shine
Oh, look above 'cause love winsIf it hurts you, just breathe in
When it pains you, just believe in
The radiant light of the morning sun
We can find our redemptionLove is strong, love is strong, love is strong
It's been there holding you all along
Everything thrown away will be new again
And love will be the last thing standingCan't stop, you can't stop the seasons
Don't stop, don't stop believingKeep on dreaming of the day when it all will change
Believe in the end, love wins
If you're waiting for the time when your sun will shine
Oh, look above 'cause love winsKeep on dreaming of the day when it all will change
Believe in the end, love wins
If you're waiting for the time when your sun will shine
Oh, look above 'cause love winsThere is hope, there is hope for my lonely soul
There is hope, there is hope to be made whole
There is life, there is life to be set free
There is life, there is life surrounding meThere is hope, there is hope for my broken heart
There is hope, there is hope for a brand new start
There is life, there is life give me eyes to see
There is life, there is life you have captured meKeep on dreaming of the day when it all will change
Believe in the end, love wins
If you're waiting for the time when your sun will shine
Oh, look above 'cause love winsKeep on dreaming of the day when it all will change
Believe in the end, love wins
If you're waiting for the time when your sun will shine
Oh, look above 'cause love wins

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/