

Single Again

Gary Stewart

Today, I heard the awful news
Someone told the gospel truth
Said, you've been runnin' 'round
With a stranger who just hit town
He's got a black mustache
And a red Cadillac
Now, he's got you and I've got two
Divorce lawyers on my back
Single again
I'm back on the streets again
The old bars ain't changed much
Just a new face or two
When you're out of touch
Single again
Born to lose, dyin' to win
Only thing, I'm running from
Is the alimony, man
'Cause I'm single again
An' drifting around from bar to bar
Runnin' into our old friends
They won't know where you are
Last I heard, a little while back
You were cruisin' town in his Cadillac
Drinkin' champagne
Showin' off a diamond ring
I'm gettin' by in these hard times
Livin' from drink to drink
Single again
Back on the streets again
The old bars ain't changed much
Just a new face or two
When you're out of touch
Single again
Born to lose, dyin' to win
The only thing I'm a running from
Is the alimony, man
'Cause I'm single again

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>