Promises

Monophonics

I knew a man
Who lied to the world
Hid from the truth,
Lived a life with no rulesI knew a man
He lied to himself
Scared of reality
Scared to ask for helpAnd he made promises
But they were all just lies
And he broke promises
Bringing tears to their eyesAnd he made promises
That he could never ever keep
Breaking his promises
Leaving broken hearts to weepI had a friend
Who had big dreams
Took on the world
But soon turned to schemesI had a friend
Though he became a stranger
Hid from the world,
Lived a life high on dangerAnd he made promises
But they were all just lies
And he broke promises
Bringing tears to their eyesAnd he made promises
That he could never ever keep
Breaking his promises
Disapointment runs deepAnd he made promises
But they were all just lies
And he broke promises
Bringing tears to their eyesAnd he made promises
That he could never ever keep
I'm breaking his promises
And the bad blood runs deepAnd he made promises
But they were all just lies
And he broke promises
Bringing tears to my eyesAnd he made promises
That he could never ever keep
He's breaking his promises
And the bad blood runs deep

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/